ACTIONABLE INSIGHTS FOR CRITICAL
CHALLENGES

The Foursyte National Security Policy (NSP) program offers federal civilians and military personnel executive seminars, workshops, and advisory support on a range of critical national security topics with high-level experts from Government, the private sector, and academia. Seminars and advisory services are provided in-person or by remote access, and can be delivered in classified or unclassified settings.

The NSP program is focused on cutting-edge policy and technology matters that are directly relevant to ongoing initiatives and programs in the DoD and the larger U.S. national security community. We do not just deliver content. Our goal is to provide participants with knowledge and insights that can be immediately applied to existing programs, future initiatives, and long-term strategic planning.

We measure success by the development of actionable expertise. Participants walk away with the ability to lead new initiatives and policy solutions as they put their expertise, research, and experience into action.

THE NSP SEMINARS INCLUDE:

- Space Law and Policy
- Special Operations Law
- Autonomous Weapons
- Unmanned Systems
- Counter-Unmanned Systems
- Artificial Intelligence
- Intelligence Law and Oversight
- Defense Support to Civil Authorities
- Advanced Digital Operations
- Cyber Operations Law
- International Treaties and Agreements
- Data Acquisition and Security (CAI/PAI)
- Legislative/NDAA Surveys
- Concepts of Operation (CONOPS)
- Law of Armed Conflict
- Financial Controls and Cost Accounting

CUSTOM PROGRAMS:

The NSP program also develops custom short and medium length executive seminars and advisory engagements for the military and other agencies designed to meet the specific requirements of these agencies. We can tailor our offerings to support specific programs and/or policy directives. Additionally, we can provide subject matter experts to support other USG training and educational programs, including security assistance programs.

OUR NSP EXPERTS:

Each seminar and support engagement is led by a distinguished member of the NSP. Drawn from a wide range of disciplines and backgrounds, our diverse group of experts include former Senior Executives in the DoD/IC, retired Judge Advocate Generals (JAGS), former DoD and IC attorneys, senior program managers, finance professionals, academics, and experts in government acquisition, venture capital, and commercial innovation.

HOW TO ACCESS:

The NSP offerings are mobile and can be conducted around the country. Seminars and advisory support can be quickly acquired through our GSA MAS Contract (47QRAA24D008F) and/or by direct purchase with the Government Purchase Card (GPC). Pricing for seminars starts at $1600 (up to five attendees). Advisory support is available at cost-effective rates with simple orders (firm fixed price and level of effort).
